THE NORWAY ADVERTISER

(OXFORD COUNTY, ME.)

JANUARY 10, 1913, NORWAY, MAINE.

Mrs. George C. Chase.

Mrs. George C. Chase, wife of President Chase of Bates College, suffered a stroke of apoplexy, late Thursday afternoon, Jan. 2nd. She did not recover consciousness but passed away about 3 o'clock Saturday morning.

Before her marriage Mrs. Chase was Emma Fayette Millet, the daughter of Joel Millet, a prosperous farmer of Norway, son of one of the first settlers of the town a strong, highly respected stock. Mrs. Chase spent her childhood days at the old family homestead in Norway, and attended the Norway Academy.

She then went to Lewiston and entered the Maine State Seminary which preceded Bates College. She graduated from the Seminary and was one of the students at the time when the Seminary became incorporated as the college; and was a member of the first class which graduated from Bates College, the class of which her future husband was also a member. After completing her studies in Lewiston she taught for a year in Lapham, Maine, and then returned to Norway.

But illness in her family obliged Mrs. Millet to relinquish her chosen profession of teaching, in which she had found herself unusually successful. For a time she was obliged to remain at her home in Norway caring for members of the family.

Mrs. Millet and Mr. Chase were married June 12, 1872. They were fellow students in Maine State Seminary. Four years had been spent by Mr. Chase in teaching at New Hampton Literary Institution, New Hampton, N. H., and also studying for a year in the Theological Seminary. In the fall of 1872, Mr. and Mrs. Chase removed to Lewiston and began their work in connection with Bates College, which has continued without interruption down to the present time.

They have six children—George M. Chase, the son, is Professor of Greek in Bates College. The oldest daughter is the wife of Hon. Carl E. Miliken of Lewiston, now President of the Maine Senate; Elizabeth D. Chase, the Registrar of Bates College; Caroline W. Chase is Assistant to the Executive Secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, whose office is in New York City; Mabel Chase, a brilliant student, endowed with marked literary ability, is now an invalid. Three sisters also survive, Ellen Millet of Portland, Mrs. S. H. Jose of Portland, and Martha S. Millet of Island Falls.

The summer home of the family is in Milletville, Norway.

That the mark of rank in nature, is usually in the song of the bird. That the anguish of the stager, Leads a sweetness to the strain.

The dreamer, like a mirror to the soul, Ever reflects in song his joy or pain. Reflects the joy in aftermath of smiles, Brackets forth the grief in answering refrain.

Brings forth from out the caverns of the soul, The heart's deep chambers where all thoughts abide; Impulses of disappointments, and of pain. And all the passions, smiles and tears beside.

As the warbler from beak, and breast, and throat, Pours forth in song, its joyfully or sad. The innate impulse of his being small, It happily it be joy, the song is glad.

A song inspiring from the dreamer's mind, Coming from out the heart that's firm and true, The nature of its birthplace shows and clear, And falls as gently as the evening dew.

On real and vast the dreamer's hand of song, Whistlingly floats as if it were a bird, Sees in silvery sea of mystic dreams. Of weal or woe, bright or sad mysterious.

And as the song reflects the mind, Whatever be the thought the song will show. It bates the mind, of coarse material wrought, So crude the song that it would seem to flow.

But if the will be good, the aims be high, At Heaven's reflection purifies the soul, Sweetest reason from out response from out the depths; An echoing song vibrates from pole to pole.

Suffered Twenty-One Years--

Finally Found Relief.

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side, I finally have found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. The physicians called it "Mother's Pain" and insisted on morphine were my only relief for short periods of time. I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hope of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big red bean and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend your great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours,

How Bessie Taught Her Little Sister a Lesson.

Two little girls whose names were Bessie and Sarah, were going to the store one day, each one having a new shining quarter of a dollar to spend for whatever they liked.

They were telling each other what they wished for most, when Bessie noticed that her shining silver piece was gone. It had worked through a little hole in her pocket. She told Sarah of her sad loss. Bessie began to cry, but Sarah laughed at her and told her that it served her right for she had dropped Sarah's doll and cracked the head.

Sarah began to tell Bessie about the sweetness she was going to buy and of which Bessie could have none.

Just then Sarah heard a team coming, she looked around and saw it was Mr. Keith, a very kind and good hearted old gentleman. He stopped and took the two little girls in and drove on to town.

In spite of Bessie's biting her lips

and trying so hard to look pleasant, the salty tears ran down her rosy cheeks. Mr. Keith noticed her sorrow so hard and said "what is the matter with my little girl?"

Bessie told him of her sorrowful mis-

shaps, then he said "let's not cry any more, we will make that right," so he told Bessie to close her eyes and open her little hands. She did so and what do you think the kind old gentleman gave her? It was a shining half dollar instead of a quarter.

This made Sarah feel very sorry to think that she had laughed at her little sister's mishaps. Bessie went into the store and bought her sister a new doll and some sweeties besides, which she gave her little sister half of. Sarah said she would never make fun again of anybody's mishaps and asked her little sister's forgiveness, which was granted, and the two little sisters made up and were always good friends afterwards.

Moral: Never make fun of anybody's mishaps for you may have it in your own dish if you do.

Universalist Christmas.

The Universalist Sunday School had their Christmas Concert and tree, Tuesday evening, with a free supper for all the members of the school, their parents and friends early in the evening.

The banquet room was tastefully decorated, for the occasion, by some of the young ladies of the school, with Christmas mottoes and trimmings of evergreen. This part of the evening was greatly enjoyed by all.

After this came the concert in the main audience room of the church where for over an hour, singing and recitations made up a very interesting program.

Then came Santa Claus, with his words of welcome and good cheer, scattering candy among the children, then hastily departing to carry other messages and gifts to other happy parties who were waiting for his coming.

Two good sized trees stood on the floor at the right and left of the organ, each loaded with gifts of love for the children and some older children.

Over the organ was the motto, "A Merry Christmas" in large letters. On the platform were assembled most of the members of the school.

The recitations were interesting and appropriate, the singing by the school and a quartet was excellent, and with the final unloading of the trees, all went home happy and in the spirit of Christmas.

The young ladies and gentlemen rendered efficient service during the afternoon and evening.

In the Advertiser of Jan. 3 is a complete list of birds entered, also the first portion of the premium list, copies of which will be sent to any address for 4 cents.

About Foul Breath.

By Dr. True

I want to speak a word here to people who have a foul, offensive breath. I am sorry to say many people have bad smelling breath and do not know it. Nine times in ten the cause is found in the stomach and bowels. If you correct an imperfect performance of these organs you are quite sure to remove the cause of bad breath. You can see that this would be so, because imperfect digestion clogs the organs with foul poisons and sluggish bowels fail to pass them off. So, if you are one of these unfortunate, I counsel you to take my Dr. True's Elixir; because a lifetime of experience proves beyond question that it will set the stomach and bowels right and keep them so. It is the best remedy for indigestion, constipation, biliousness, feverishness and worms. It drives from the body, with gentle force, the accumulated poisons and any worms that may be present. Thus, Dr. True's Elixir has proved, and is proving, a source of health to thousands. It is sold by reliable dealers all over the country; also in Canada, South America, Cuba, Honolulu, Bombay and Calcutta, India; Shanghai, China; Cairo, Egypt; Athens, etc. Price 35c, 50c and $1.00.

Among those confined to the house with the prevailing grip colds have been Mr. and Mrs. John Colby, Geo. Allen, Mrs. Lizzie Pendexter, Ellen Blake and Mrs. Irving Ingalls. Mrs. Martha Frye has been very ill at Joen Colby's.

Despite the bad weather and traveling, there was a good crowd at the Christmas tree at L. O. O. F. hall, Tuesday evening. The entertainment was fine, opening with prayer by our pastor, singing of Christmas Carols by the choir, singing and recitations by the children, and then came the unloading of the trees by Santa Claus, assisted by the pastor. All were remembered and had a fine time.

Word was received here Monday morning, the 23d, that James McAuley had passed away at his home at his late home in Livermore Falls. Mr. McAuley is well known here. He was a brother of our blacksmith, Will McAuley, and was a clerk at A. P. Cobb's for a long time while living here. The home of the family was New York, where interment will take place. He leaves a widow, an aged mother, two brothers and a sister.

A GIRL'S WILD MIDNIGHT RIDE.

To warn people of a fearful forest fire in the Catskills a young girl rode horseback at midnight and saved many lives.
